

November 2016

Max Finkelstein Relocates N.Y. Warehouse

Regional Wholesale Distributor Max Finkelstein Inc. has relocated its Binghamton, N.Y., facility to a more spacious and modern facility in the neighboring town of Kirkwood.

Located 5 miles from its previous location, Max Finkelstein's new facility upgrades the wholesaler's capacity from 30,000 square feet to 80,000 square feet.

According to Max Finkelstein, the new facility will allow the company to enhance its service with a more comprehensive inventory ensuring unrivaled fill-rates. Additionally, the new location will help the company cater to the growing consumer and commercial tire business throughout the Interstates 81, 86, 88 and 90 corridors.

The Kirkwood facility is located 165 miles northwest of New York City, 50 miles north of Scranton, Pa., 80 miles south of Syracuse, N.Y., and 140 miles southwest of Albany, N.Y.

Max Finkelstein Inc. distributes tires throughout the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic United States through 13 distribution centers.